

Journalism And Life

Gossip is a symptom of boredom.

So is concern for others.

Bored with myself I choose the escapist way.

Escaping, I found that the faster I ran, the faster life passed me by; the more I needed to live my life through others. A fan kissing his idol's feet? A slave bending for his master? Pitiful!

Learn to serve yourself and you will be naturally pleasing to others.

Learn to live with yourself and your need to escape will cease.

"Come unto me" is a foolish word: for it is I that go.
